Embrace your city, your past

President's Letter May 2019

Dear Aurora Historical Society members,

As some of you have heard, Sandy Sweeney has stepped down as the AHS president. She will still be on the board, but because of health and family reasons she could not devote as much time as she thought was necessary to continue as president. Therefore, I have agreed to take on the position. I am very glad that Sandy will be here to help and advise me as we move forward with AHS. To that end, let me say that we have some fun things coming up. On May 18th, at 2:00 pm, we will have our meeting at the Melvin Schoolhouse. If you have never been there, the Melvin School is Aurora's Landmark no. 1, located at 4950 S. Laredo St. on the Smoky Hill High School grounds. Garry O' Hara will be our speaker, and the Cherry Creek Valley Historical Society is joining us. On June 22nd, we will have our annual ice cream social at Centennial House from 1-4. Tickets are $5. This is our yearly fundraiser. Some of the money we raised last year went to pay for the new sign in front of Centennial House. The sign will be dedicated right before the ice cream social begins so come out and join us. We will have music from the Capital City Band and 1870's Town Band. They entertained us last year and were very popular so come enjoy the music. Stroll in your hats and parasols or come in shorts, we don't care, just come and have fun.

On July 27th, we are bringing back the AHS potluck BBQ. It will be at the Lowry Pavilion. AHS will have drinks, hamburgers, and hotdogs. More details will follow, come enjoy a summer evening with good food and good people.

A list of programs for the upcoming year will be out soon so you can plan ahead. If anyone has suggestions about programs or AHS meetings, please let me know.

Remembering Aurora

Michael Lockwood, Aurora Historical Society

An Aurora native, a graduate of the Aurora Public Schools (Vaughn Elementary, North Middle School & Aurora Central High School) and still living less than 2 miles from where I grew up, Aurora has been a big part of my life ever since I was born. Having grown up here, I have several memories that I'd love to provide for your reading pleasure via The Advocate newsletter. For those of you who have Aurora connections that go back as far as the 1950's the recollections presented may bring back waves of nostalgia. And while I have 60 years of memories to relate, if you have some stories you'd like to share, please feel free to contact us at the Aurora Historical web site:

www.aurorahistoricalociety.org

REMEMBERING: Easter

There was always some eager anticipation when Easter rolled around. Going through the grocery store with Mom and seeing all that candy and Easter egg dye kits. Of course, I always wanted the expensive elaborate dye kits that had a dozen color dye tablets with pictures that looked like Faberge eggs. And we always bought the kit with 4 color tablets. When the time to dye the eggs came, Mom would hard-boil a dozen eggs and it seemed like it took forever for them to cool off enough to dye (don't forget the wax crayon to write your name on the egg). Mom would put some vinegar in a small bowl, add the tablets and then after the tablet dissolved it was time to roll the eggs in the dye. Somehow it never turned out as bright as the box showed and don't try and get too fancy by making multi-colored ones. While Mom and I were at church the next morning, Dad would hide the eggs, usually inside, but on one occasion he hid them outside. The excitement of searching for them in the front and back yard was off-the-chart. Funny story, Dad was better at hiding than he thought he was. Weeks after Easter, while playing outside, I came across an Easter egg that had been put just inside the end of a downspout. The aroma was pungent to say the least. No more hiding eggs outside and from that day forward all eggs were accounted for at the end of the hunt.

Time waits for no man and our history eventually becomes shared memories of people and places. Preservation can help keep those memories a little more tangible so that we can share with future generations.

Fletcher in 1900.... What do we Know?

Tracking down the details of Aurora's past requires detective ability and persistence. The search was made easier with the release in 1977 of the U.S. Census of 1900. Vickie Sandstead made a trip to the Denver Federal center and brought back microfilm copies of the 1900 census of Fletcher.

Incorporation in 1891

It is established today that Fletcher was incorporated in 1891, with boundaries enclosing four square miles. Within those boundaries was the Aurora subdivision, which had been platted in Arapahoe County in 1890. Approximately 100 people lived in Fletcher in 1891, most of them within the Aurora Subdivision, north of Colfax, Yosemite to Havana.

Troubles Sprout

One of the first acts of the Fletcher Town Council, on June 8, 1891 was to purchase the Coal Creek water system from the East Denver Water Company for $150,000. This debt was to stagger the residents of Fletcher for years to come. Drought came also, resulting in little or no water from the Coal Creek system.

The land boom of the late 1880s and early 1890s screeched to a grinding halt with the silver Panic of 1893. All the banks in Denver closed, except one. The small town of Fletcher did not grow. Land was bought and sold, but prices represented the depressed market.

Streetcar Approved

In June of 1898, an ordinance was approved which allowed the Colfax Electric Railway Company to lay and maintain streetcar tracks on Colfax Avenue. The company was required to operate daily service from Hathaway Street (now Galena) to Yosemite, from 6:00am to 11:00 pm at a fare of no more than five cents.

Aurora Democrat from April 2, 1926

For some week's preparation has been in progress for the Easter program. It will consist of four parts as follows

First—The Easter music rendered by the Community chorus, under direction of Mrs. Shipman.

Second — The Communion of the Lord's supper, reception of new members and baptism.

Third The dedication of the Joash Temple Chest upon the altar to receive the thank offering of His people.

Fourth—Dr. Smiley's Easter sermon on The Dawn in the Tomb.

The Easter program at 7:30 P. M will consist of special music, recitations and readings. A beautiful souvenir program will be presented to each one present. All are welcome to enjoy these Easter services.

Those who wish to join the church on Easter Sunday, will give name to pastor before the morning service.

The Presbytery has accepted the invitation of the Aurora Community church, and will hold the annual spring Convent on in Aurora April 20 21st. This will bring a large gathering of ministers and business men from over the state and other states.

EASTER SERVICES AT CHRISTIAN CHURCH

The young people of the Christian church are preparing a special Easter program, which will be presented at the church Easter morning following Sun School.

You are promised a lightful program, and cordially invited to attend

The franchise was limited to a term of 20 years. It is possible that some residents moved to Fletcher when the streetcar line began service to Denver.

Census of 1900

An attempt has been made to reproduce in this newsletter a portion of the official census of 1900. The names of all the residents are not included because the print was so dim or the handwriting difficult to read.

The census shows that in 1900 there were 202 persons living in Fletcher. Fifty-two of these persons were inmates and staff of the State Industrial School for Girls. The names of the girls are not included in this article, but the record shows their ages ranged from 11 to 19 years. All could read and write. Nine inmates were black.

The school was moved at a later date to Morrison. Does anyone know where the school was located in Fletcher?

Young Population

Fletcher in 1900 appears to have had a youthful population, with only 4 residents being age 60 or older. Of the 150 town residents, approximately fifty were children, with 30 listed as being "at school."

Occupations

Fletcher was a farming community, with many fields of hay for the cattle ranching and dairying. Thus, the occupations listed as "farmer," "dairyman," and "livestock dealer" seem appropriate. Fletcher did have a doctor (William Cundy), a lawyer (William Bryans), and a dentist (Pascal Chambers). Most of the women do not have an occupation listed; however, two were "housekeeper," two were "servant," and one each a "dairywoman" and "telephone operator."

Men were listed first, as "head" of the household. There was no controversy there in 1900.

Civic Duties

With a town population of 202, and with 52 being inmates in the Industrial School for Girls, that left 150 town citizens. If about 50 of these remaining were children, there were about 100 residents to serve in the Fletcher town government. Upon checking old records, it is possible to assume that duties were passed around among the men who were the more permanent residents. Following is a list, although probably incomplete, of elected Fletcher officials whose names are included in the Census of 1900:

William A. Cundy: Mayor April 1898 to April 1899

William A. Bryans: Town Recorder Oct. 1899 to May 1900. Town Attorney April 1908 to April 1909

Pascal Chambers: Town Trustee Sept. 1893-April 1895 Mayor May 1895- April 1898 Town Trustee 1898-1902

Orin N. Hilton Town Attorney Feb. 1892-April 1905

Francis A. Perry He was a member of the first Fletcher Town Council, being elected Town Treasurer in May 1891 and served until April 1904

Minnie E. Perry Town Recorder from May 1894-Oct 1895. She is the only woman listed. Could she have been Mary E. Perry, wife of Francis A. Perry. Could these Perry's be related to S. M. Perry, President of the Colfax Trust Company, which platted the Aurora Subdivision?

Aurora History Museum Exhibits and Events Spring 2019

Robert Hornell: Fletcher's first Town Marshall and water Commissioner. He resigned Nov. 4, 1891, after only 5 months in office.

Benjamin Snyder: Father-in-law of Robert Hornell, appointed Town Marshall in Nov. 1891, but he also resigned Jan. 1892.

Frank Barnard: Town Trustee from 1896 through April 1904.

Edward Lockwood: Town Trustee- four terms during periods from 1896-1909.

Lucius H. Woodman: Town Marshall from May 1894- April 1897.

William H. Murphy: Mayor from May 1899 to April 1901. Town Trustee 1901-1903.

John W. Harris: Town Trustee April 1896-1897. Town Marshall 1897-1905

John A. Talbot: Police Magistrate April 1896-1897; Town Trustee 1898-1900

William S. Munn: Town Trustee May 1900 to April 1906

Andrew Thompson: Town Trustee April 1905: appointed Mayor April 1906.

Clayton B. Nordydke: Town Trustee Jan 1904 to Oct. 1905

Paul C. Clark: Police Magistrate May 1899- April 1903.

Who is not in the Census of 1900?

The petition for the incorporation of Fletcher had been signed by 43 persons. In 1900 only two of those signers remained in Fletcher, Frank Barnard and B. F. Snyder. Of the first town council and officers only Francis Perry and Robert Hornell remained. Nine years had gone by and many of the first residents were no longer in Fletcher.

Looking at occupations, there is no school teacher listed, no grocery owner, no church pastor. There is no mention of newspaper. Do you suppose Fletcher was without a tavern or saloon? The coming years would bring a telephone system, street numbers, sidewalks, city hall, but not recognition. (1900 Census is printed at end of the newsletter)

US 40 and the American Road Trip

Temporarily on display at the Aurora History Museum Back by popular demand, portions of "US 40 and the American Road Trip" are temporarily on display in the east hallway at the Aurora History Museum.

Grab a bite to eat, fill up your tank and take a trip through the history of the motels, restaurants and gas stations that lined Colfax

Avenue since the rise of the automobile and the American road trip. The end of World War II offered adventurous middle-class Americans the freedom to travel by automobile, and the motels that lined the highways provided these travelers the comforts of home. The Aurora History Museum takes you back to the heyday of Route 40 when the glittering neon signs and sparkling pools in Aurora welcomed the tourists heading towards the Rocky Mountains.

By the early 1960s, there were over 50 motels located on Colfax Avenue between Tower Road and Yosemite Street, twice the number seen 20 years earlier. Local restaurants stayed open around the clock and offered home-cooked meals to lure tourists, and fueling stations were ready with gasoline and repair services for any unforeseen issues encountered while on vacation. Museum staff gathered some interesting stories and photographs in the exhibition by working with former business owners and their families, as well as with local Colfax Avenue historian Jonny Barber. Learn more about Aurora's place in the Great American Road Trip! Longtime Aurora residents are encouraged to contact the museum staff to share their memories of Colfax Avenue in Aurora.

Growing Home & Trolley Trailer no. 710

Growing Home is a permanent exhibit about Aurora's history featuring Trolley Trailer No. 610, a fully-restored 1913 historic trolley trailer. The exhibit highlights people, places, and events from Aurora's history. It features over 100 historic photographs and objects, and the fully restored 1913 historic Trolley Trailer No. 610 in the new Ruth Fountain gallery. Go inside the trolley and experience 100 years of history first-hand. The exhibit was designed by Dennis Meyer of Filament Design/Build with support from museum staff.

In October 2012, the Aurora City Council approved funding for the construction of a new gallery and addition at the Aurora History Museum. Council resolved to name it in honor of Ruth Fountain, a former city councilwoman, community activist and museum supporter.
